I visited Great Britain last year for my summer holidays. Before going, I was so excited. I first arrived in London. I landed at Heathrow airport at 7 o'clock on the 15th of July. The first few days were cloudy and windy, it was a little frustrating. I stayed in London for a week. I enjoyed visiting the museums and the parks, but I didn't visit all the most important monuments. The week after, I started a trip along the Thames and I stopped at Stratford-upon-Avon where Shakespeare was born. I finished my holiday in Oxford because I wanted to see the University. It was very beautiful, so I wasn't disappointed.

3) Think about one of your past holidays. Give your classmate three hints. For example:

ate a lot

excited

'I went there last year'

'During the trip, I ate a lot'

'I was very excited to be there'

Your classmate must ask you questions in order to guess where you went on holiday. The student who asks fewer questions wins.

For example:

- Did you fly to get there?
- Did you understand the language?
- How long did you stay there?
- What food did you like?
